NEW ENGLAND DINNER

To Our Patrons:

During the War period, production of Evaporated Milk was greatly increased, in order to supply the Allied Armies and European Nations. With the end of the war, the demobilization of the armies and the depreciation of foreign exchange, this market was destroyed.

As a result, Evaporated Milk manufacturers who had increased production to supply this war period demand, have accumulated large stocks.

Until this surplus is consumed, dairymen may find more profit in disposing of their milk other than to the condensery. When the surplus in the hands of exporting manufacturers is absorbed, the condensery will, as in the past, be the best market for milk.

Items will be found in the local papers showing the action taken by various evaporated milk manufacturers to meet the

Dairymen in this section should not be alarmed by these reports, as The Van Camp Packing Co. are in position to accept their milk and the price will be as good as market conditions will

AS retailers who have been here a long time (and hope to be here much longer---making more and more friends as the years roll by) may we not offer a word about buying clothing today?

Here it is: Check up on VALUES!

Some folks buy things at most any price---but he who buye well is the one who makes sure of getting quality---and without straining his pocketbook.

In men's clothing it is possible to get real quality reasonably. Particularly in the new Clothcraft Suits and O'Coats that have just arrived is this apparent. Judicious purchases of raw materials, short-cuts and better manufacturing processes and the fair pricing makethese clothes a really wonderful value at distinctly moderate prices.

Clothcraft, you know, cut the fads and frills from the making of men's clothing, centering their production on smart, sturdy, sensible styles-the kind a man really likes to wear. The savings thus effected are passed on to you in the form of suit values that are at least one third better than anything else in the market

There is no need to hold off any longer. The 'best buy" of the year is here today---call and see it for yourself. You should compare our clothing values.
